PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Senior product manager with 10+ years in tech (7+ in product) across fintech, banking, lending, e-commerce and marketplaces. Runs discovery with business stakeholders, partners and B2B customers, then turns complex requirements into functional designs that engineering can build: user and transaction flows, states and transitions, edge cases, error handling and acceptance criteria. Comfortable on both sides of the table — with business owners on goals and priorities, and with designers and developers on technical trade-offs. Uses product analytics, SQL and customer feedback to validate solutions after launch. Fluent English (C1), used daily in remote, international teams.

SELECTED IMPACT

- Took a payment orchestration product at inDrive from discovery to launch across 40 countries, cutting processing costs by ~$100K/month (~20%).
- Standardized requirements and integration specs with 4+ external partners at SkyRo, turning unpredictable integration timelines into a steady 2.5 weeks.
- Ran discovery and pilots with B2B retailers at Sbermarket: 3 of 5 pilots converted to paid; customer satisfaction up from 65% to 85%.
- Cut merchant onboarding from 1 month to 2 weeks and support volume by 23% at Tinkoff Bank.
- Launched a CPA monetization model adopted by 90% of wholesale sellers at Drom.ru.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Lead Technical Product Manager — Payments Platform

Oct 2025 – Oct 2026

SkyRo · Malaysia (remote, lending fintech) · contract

- Translated business requirements for credit products into functional designs for disbursements, repayments and wallet operations: flows, statuses, transitions, validation and error rules; asynchronous payouts removed manual payout investigations entirely.
- Took an inbound remittance product (Gulf → Southeast Asia) from zero to MVP and pivoted it into cross-border repayments, where relatives abroad top up a family member's credit line: researched and selected partners, mapped money, data and system flows, agreed the commercial model with the partner, and planned the move from a remittance-as-a-service provider to an in-house build.
- Launched multi-channel loan repayments in Malaysia with 2 partners and 3 methods each (cards, bank transfers via Virtual IBANs, cash), including customer-facing confirmation steps and edge cases such as expired or changed payoff amounts.
- Wrote specifications and acceptance criteria for asynchronous processes (callbacks, timeouts, retries), working through edge cases with architects and engineers before development.
- Ran requirement sessions with external PSPs, EMIs and banks and standardized the resulting integration specs, turning unpredictable integration timelines into a steady 2.5 weeks per partner.
